WELCOME

Frances Marshall's stunning photograph of mezzo Sharon Carty with her 'suitcase arias' is the platform from which we embark on a journey of discovery in Galway this season.

The mass movement of people towards and around Europe is one of the great crises facing our society today. Alongside that, migration is one of the over-arching themes of the Galway 2020 programme which is now just around the corner. Furthermore, down through the centuries, musicians have often been willing (and not so willing) travellers, embarking on long arduous concert tours to show off their talents or living in exile to avoid persecution. And so it seems fitting that we explore this theme of travel, of exchange of ideas and of cross-fertilisation through music, tapping into our Wanderlust theme in various different ways throughout the season.

The RTÉ Concert Orchestra will present a programme of music from travel / adventure movies while Sharon Carty will dazzle with her baroque suitcase arias. String quartets from far and wide will pack their suitcases and head to Galway – the Goldner Quartet from Australia will make their Irish debut and the Quartetto di Venezia will make a welcome return to MfG. We present the radio.string.quartet in association with the Galway Jazz Festival and the ConTempo Quartet will once again shine at our Midwinter Festival, Swansong. This will be the third and final act of our trilogy of festivals marking different stages of composers' lives. Extra concerts have been added and a veritable feast awaits. We also present, as usual, the Messiah with the IBO, the RTÉ National Symphony Orchestra and our Emily Anderson Concert. We collaborate again with Cúirt to bring you a fascinating evening about the disappearance of a Stradivarius violin. And we offer a diverse series of lunchtime concerts in association with Arts in Action and the new BA degree in music at NUIG.

We are very pleased to strengthen our relationship with NUI Galway as a new BA in Music programme comes on stream. Not only have we moved our offices onto the campus, but we are signing an agreement that formalises our relationship for the coming three years. In parallel, we continue to liaise with staff and students at GMIT, and as Galway 2020 approaches, we are exploring opportunities for them to put their developing skills to the service of our artistic programme.

We thank as usual all our funders, sponsors, MfG Friends, volunteers, partner promoters, and you our loyal audience.

Buon viaggio a tutti!!

MOZART Violin Sonata in E minor, K.304

MOZART Violin Sonata in E flat, K.380

BEETHOVEN Violin Sonata No 7 in C minor, Op. 30, No. 2

Born in 1990 in New Zealand, Benjamin Baker studied at the Yehudi Menuhin School and the Royal College of Music where he was awarded the Queen Elizabeth the Queen Mother Rose Bowl. He won the Emily Anderson Prize at the Royal Philharmonic Society in 2013 and went on to win 1st Prize at the 2016 Young Concert Artists auditions in New York and 3rd Prize at the Michael Hill Competition in New Zealand, establishing a strong international presence.

Born in Hungary, Daniel Lebhardt won 1st Prize at the Young Concert Artists auditions in Paris and New York in 2014 aged 22. A year later he was selected by Young Classical Artists Trust in London and in 2016 won the Most Promising Pianist prize at the Sydney International Competition.

We continue presenting young promising artists this year with pianist Joe O'Grady (13) who opens the concert with Beethoven's Pathétique Sonata.

A Girl, a Violin, a Life Unstrung

Min Kym violinist and author in conversation with Toner Quinn

Our Wanderlust theme continues.. Korean-born, London-raised violinist Min Kym talks about growing up as a child prodigy, gives insights into the world of a budding soloist and the special relationship a violinist develops with their instrument, in this case a priceless Stradivarius that was dramatically stolen from her in central London. She will read from her bestselling memoir “Gone: A Girl, a Violin, a Life Unstrung” and perform some of the works mentioned in the book.

*Toner Quinn is editor of The Journal of Music and Lecturer in Publishing at NUI

This year's programme takes its title from Heinrich Schütz's beautiful setting of the last words of Christ on the cross: Die sieben Worte Jesu Christi am Kreuz. Also in the programme are settings of other texts, both in German and Latin, associated with death and final utterances: the canticle Nunc dimittis and the funeral psalm De profundis, in versions by Schein, Lassus (from his monumental Psalmi Davidis poenitentiales), Palestrina, Praetorius and Schütz again (from the famous Musikalische Exequien).

SUITCASE ARIAS

Arias by Riccardo Broschi (brother of Farinelli), Bertoni, Giacomelli as well as Handel

Sharon Carty mezzo-soprano
With baroque ensemble led by Claire Duff

“Suitcase arias” or “Arie di Baule” were given this name because famous singers throughout the 17th and 18th centuries brought them with them on their travels, and these arias were regularly “inserted” into operas as party pieces by other composers or into pasticcios with the work of several composers.

31 OCTOBER Emily Anderson Concert Hall

THÉRÈSE FAHY piano

MADELEINE STAUNTON flute

Following her highly successful series, Ireland's Tombeau to Debussy, at the National Concert Hall and special anniversary recital at Debussy's house outside Paris, acclaimed Irish pianist Thérèse Fahy comes to Galway to play selected piano works by the great French composer. She will be joined by flautist, Madeleine Staunton, to play a Debussy-inspired piece by Galway-based composer, Jane O' Leary.

28 NOVEMBER O'Donoghue Centre

DAVID SZÁBO piano |

GERGELY KUKLIS violin | ROBERT SOLYOM clarinet

Galway is extremely lucky to have these three wonderful Hungarian musicians not only living in Galway but teaching here too. They will present a programme which focuses on one of Hungary's most celebrated composers, Béla Bartók.

30 JANUARY O'Donoghue Centre

LAOISE O'BRIEN recorders

EAMON SWEENEY baroque guitar / lute

MALACHY ROBINSON bass viol

O'Brien, Robinson and Sweeney present a programme of music from the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, including works by William Byrd, John Dowland and some well-known tunes such as Greensleeves and Sí Bheag Sí Mhor.

27 FEBRUARY O'Donoghue Centre

SEBASTIAN ADAMS composer / viola

YSEULT COOPER STOCKDALE cello

Young composer and violist Sebastian Adams presents a programme of contemporary music and speaks of modern voices which have influenced him particularly.

27 MARCH Emily Anderson Concert Hall

THOMAS-MICHAEL AUNER cello

MAXIMILIAN FLIEDER piano

The programme circles around Clara Schumann and her 200th birthday celebration in 2019, with works by Beethoven, Mendelssohn, Clara Schumann and Brahms.

24 APRIL Emily Anderson Concert Hall

GMR APPRENTICE ENSEMBLES

The Voldemort Quartet | Euterpe Wind Quintet

The Incantato String Quartet

Dina Ryan and Aoife Moran clarinet & piano

Music for Galway is delighted to present the Galway Music Residency Apprentice Ensembles in a showcase performance. They will perform a programme prepared under the mentorship of the ConTempo Quartet during their time on the Apprentice Ensemble Programme.

Planning for 2020...

We are delighted that Music for Galway has been tasked with providing the main classical programme for Galway 2020 European Capital of Culture. The programme will incorporate not only MfG's new signature festival CELLISSIMO, scheduled to take place in April / May 2020, but also the bid-book project envisioned by Mark Duley for St. Nicholas' Collegiate Church. Together with Mark, MfG is now preparing an exciting calendar of top-class musical events which will stretch from January to December. Needless to say, we will be on the lookout for teams of volunteers to help us deliver these exciting concerts - please get in touch with Suzanne at the office if you're interested.

DEATH IN VENICE

As part of the Midwinter Festival we partner once more with the Galway Film Society for the screening of Lucchino Visconti's masterpiece Death in Venice. Not only is the theme of the film appropriate for our Swansong Midwinter Festival, but the obsessive use of the Adagietto from Mahler's fifth symphony will haunt all who watch this mesmerising movie.

This is a special screening in association with the Galway Film Society.
